

AUTHOR K R PAUL

Price: Paperback: $12.99, E-Book: $7.99

Pages: 318

ISBN:

Paperback: 979-8-9898245-0-2

E-Book: 979-8-9898245-1-9

Publication Date: 30 September 2020

Publisher: KRP Publishing

Synopsis

A casual date turns into a horrific attack that leads US Air Force Captain Valerie Hall to discover she has the power of teleportation. Her military career takes a sudden kinetic turn—she isn't the only one with Jump skills. Val is drawn into a world where teleportation meets advanced military tactics on high-stakes missions around the globe with the ultra-secret group of American military teleportation operators known to few as the Pantheon.

She learns to adapt her new-found skill to transition from administrative to a full-dress special operator—and the Pantheon must form an uneasy alliance with a band of Russian teleportation experts in order to take down a larger enemy that threatens both nations.

Reviews

"Kay serves in the military and I think the storyline reflects her deep understanding of the command structure and just how things are done the 'military way'. This is an outstanding read and I rate it 5 stars! I look forward to her future productions. She's a great storyteller, especially in the 'what if's.'"

— Julie Watson

"I didn't recognize this book as a debut; the writing felt too good to be a debut. All aspects from action, espionage, military styled narrative, romance, all the way to the awesome science-fiction/fantasy elements, are written extremely well. A great out-of-the-box action thriller!"

— Kashif Hussain, Best Thriller Books